

Increase revenues from Internet, phone and mail order foreign currency transactions.

For more information contact your Relationship Manager or visit www.chasepaymentech.com.

Put our global advantage to work for you by transforming your international Internet and MOTO transactions with today's most powerful currency conversion tool, FX Now.

Convert card-not-present transactions easily to your international customer's home currency with the revolutionary FX Now, the Dynamic Currency Conversion (DCC) service from Chase Paymentech. With FX Now, you can authorize and settle transactions in any of the major global currencies with funding back to you in USD, guaranteed.

You share in conversion revenue on every transaction.

You continue getting your money settled in U.S. dollars, guaranteed, and your customer sees his transaction amount in the currency the card was issued—right at the point of sale (POS).

FX Now at work for you.

When customers use non-U.S. currency issued cards over the Internet, or MOTO transactions, you can confidently offer them immediate currency conversion services. Once the customer accepts, the transaction remains in that currency throughout the transaction and settlement process until you are funded back in USD, guaranteed at no currency risk to you.

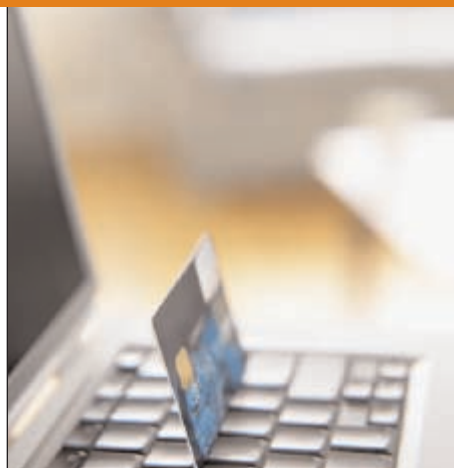

It all adds up to benefits for you.

- Reduced price confusion increases your customer's likelihood to complete the transaction
- Conversion convenience increases customer satisfaction
- Real-time conversion reduces chargeback risk
- Commission revenue adds to your profits

FX Now at work for your lucrative international customers.

FX Now takes the worry out of conversion rates for your international customers. With FX Now, you provide them with all the details before the transaction is finalized:

- Instant knowledge of the transaction total in the customer's currency
- Price of the goods in U.S. dollars also displayed
- A published, competitive, electronically updated conversion rate
- A printable confirmation
- Your business travel customer will now have the ease of a receipt that can immediately be submitted for reimbursement upon returning home

Instant answers.

FXNow! takes the hassle out of dealing with major international currencies such as the yen, euro and the peso. This shared-revenue service from Chase Paymentech automatically tells your customers the exact amount to be billed on their credit card statements in their own currency. They approve the purchase and you can ship the goods in confidence.

CHASE ™
Paymentech